Communication

```
User          NextJS          Express          Database
```

User creates a chat between members →

User types a message in chat →

Data is sent through to logic layer →

Chat logs are stored in database →

← Chat logs are received from the database

← Front end displays chat to a user